

Assignment 7

Data Science Teams

This week's assignment will give you an opportunity to further develop your research skills. As you would have noticed from completing the literature review, there are many open research questions on "wisdom of the crowds". For instance, can social influence undermine wisdom of the crowd, what are the necessary and sufficient conditions to form a wise crowd?

Each group should brainstorm one research question and submit a short 1-2 page report, covering the following points:

- (a) propose a research question
- (b) summarize the literature on that question
- (c) propose an experiment to test it
- (d) describe how to analyze the data from the experiment

Feel free to propose additional elements to include in the webpage if needed.

Web Development Team

Please start uploading the completed tasks on the "Wisdom of the crowds" spreadsheet onto the platform. The "status" column should give you a good indication of which tasks are completed and ready to be uploaded. Should any issues come up with formatting or otherwise, please contact the team responsible for the task directly to work through the issue.